Critical Result Notification and Escalation

Policy snapshot | Valid 3 February 2026

Purpose

This snapshot is the control reference for administrative documentation of critical-result calls.

Timing

The clock starts at the recorded result-verification timestamp. Initial critical-result notification target: 30 minutes from verification. If acknowledgement is not documented, escalation is due at 60 minutes from verification.

Record facts

Retain the actual verification, notification, acknowledgement and escalation timestamps, together with recipient or role, notification method, delay category, exception detail and recorder identity. A late event is not replaced by the deadline.

Delayed events

A delay beyond the policy range may be recorded with its actual timing and supporting reason/detail.

Threshold point

This policy does not specify whether an event exactly at a timing threshold is inside or outside the range.
